— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Yesterday, summer stole quickly, silently away. It went over yonder across the hills and beyond. Autumn came whispering and spread her soft veil everywhere. Her beauty we're sure to remember and keep in our hearts, as late as December. So Ruth and I thought, as we left for a journey two miles back into the woods.

The sunshine pure and clear, fell softly over the low wooded hills, giving them a dreamy look. It was neither too hot or too cold, just pleasant.

Late September is a stream of wonder, changing from day to day. We left the car near Town Meeting Elm and took the road back toward Round Mountain.

As we crossed the brooks, autumn was flowing past. Millweed floss danced with the slow current, so light that it bounced. Leaves were staining the woodland everywhere; nature beginning to glow in color array. They were the bright asters blooming with goldenrod among them. Blue haze touched the distant hills and deep purple clothed the mountain tops.

We stopped beneath a tall pine and admired its beauty, as it towered against so blue a sky.

A very tiny bird came to sit on a bush above us; so tiny it scarcely made a move. It lingered momentarily and then was gone. It surely was a day meant for roaming.

A chipmunk scampered by the roadside to weave a brown-striped pattern among the leaves.

Where the frost had visited, the arching grace of frail lace ferns had turned brown.

We walked and talked until we were nearly at the end of the road and could clearly hear chain saws howling and buzzing, then we turned back.

We skirted shoulders of hills and saw moose tracks in the road. The gold, the green, the red were unblemished in the bright sunlight.

Unfortunately we were only two lucky people among millions in the world to whom this paradise was attainable. Only a small minority of people will ever consider nature a basic source of happiness.

We came to a small building over-shadowed by trees but on one side a brilliant vine, which gave the effect of a sweet melancholy smile.

We retraced our steps through the open gate, and plodded on along the road to the car, and home.

At dusk a faint coolness came, and folded down over the countryside. The harvest moon rose with a poor luminous quality and made everything night-beautiful. A tender light flattered objects which seem unsightly in clear light of day. Everywhere the sky was sprinkled with stars.

On Thursday we had a large rock maple taken down. In such a small space in which to work it was a work of art. Its diameter was 31 inches. We'll miss it but it was no longer safe.

Del and Betty Hayes, Auburn, were at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday. On Tuesday Rolly Hayes was at the Maine Medical Tests and entered Stephens Memorial Hospital on Wednesday for two days. He is home again. Kevin Hayes, Gray, stayed with his grandmother one night. Terry Spirens flew to his home in Indiana on Thursday and will return home today (Monday).

I attended the services for a nephew, Dale Cullerton, in Mechanic Falls on Sunday. I also visited my brother, Ernest, and wife at their home.

Phil Bentley, Auburn, was at Frank Curtis's on Wednesday.

BRYANT POND UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST CHURCH NEWS

This past Sunday was the conclusion of the church's search through the history and growth of Unitarian-Universalism. All were very much enlightened. On Oct. 5, Rev. Herbert Weeks will speak on personal religion, using scripture as a starting point: "What we choose is what we are," and how choices are affected by what we believe.

The Annual Meeting will take place Oct. 15, beginning at 6:30 with a pot luck supper.

Sunday Church School is at 10:30 each Sunday. Contact Roberta Croteau for more information. Plans are underway to start a children's choir. All interested children should meet at the church on Sunday, Oct. 12, just before Sunday School, about 10:15. Further plans will be made at that time. Contact Chris Hefley for more information.

Sent in by Eva Yates:

A lovely clear cold Monday. There is no doubt what so ever about the frost being on the punkins this morning. Temperature is 25° at our house and Go Shoes have not got back on the hook since Saturday night. What nicer birthday gift than a day at Fryeburg fair to the horse show could one desire. It was great. Yes, a little cold but the horses were warm. The horse parade was excellent, although in lots of cases the clean, shiny body of the horse is much prettier than the drapery they had on them. Some so pretty they make you catch breath—some so homely you feel sorry for them but all so good and so well trained. I like to see a horse so well trained that when you tell him whoa, he is hitched. These that tread back and forth and all around are not trained and as I know in one case, can kill a person, needs training. Understand there is to be a horse show at Pat Murphy's next Saturday a. m., Oct. 4. I hope to be there if all goes well, so come and bring your friends.

Bear River Grange held its regular meeting Saturday night. The new lecturer put on a nice program and all went well. Next meeting will be preceded by the usual pot luck supper and it will be held downstairs in the dining hall, so if stairs bother you, you can come as its down stairs from now until next May unless something special comes up. It is still evening meetings. The talk about the dance Oct. 4, makes you feel more like shaking a leg, the more they talk dance. So be sure to come and bring a good partner.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Irish from Georgia arrived at the B. H. Yates Thursday and both Yates and Irish are trailer living at Fryeburg fair grounds for this week.

Mrs. Kaye Blossy returned to Florida by plane Friday.

Verna Swan had supper Friday night with Joe and Eva.

I am told Robert Bean has a new job. He is baby sitter for his sister Frances' two pet dog while she is away on a visit in New Hampshire.

Above all don't forget the dance Oct. 4. at the Bear River Grange hall. The band will start shortly after 8 p. m. Your feet will have to dance if the rest of you can't. I believe there is to be something on hand for the tummy and there will be all kinds of good music. No, I am not going to sing but its going to be a good clean old fashioned whang banger! So bring your friends and enjoy a big big evening.

Kaye Blossy visited Mrs. Jeffrey Yates Wednesday afternoon.

David Fleet and son Jeff returned home from a hunting trip Tuesday night with a bull moose. That should be a help to the grocery bill. Good for you boys. A 900 pounder.

Bryce H. Yates was in Jackman on business Saturday.

Kay Blossy and her mother, Peggy Blake, visited Tuesday evening with Mrs. Howard Lapham.

The Raleigh lady has her a watch dog that rides with her now. They were calling on friends Monday.

Mrs. Frances Gunther is visiting her daughter, Patricia, in New Hampshire for a few days.

Mrs. Kaye Blossy and mother had dinner Monday at Bryant Pond at the Mann's Boiler Room restaurant. They also enjoyed a tour of the place and had a short visit with a friend.

WEST BETHEL

Children's Center

Children and staff have been very busy at the school as they get settled in to the program year. For the past two weeks they have been introducing the new children and reacquainting the Day Care children to all the learning interest areas. The block, puppet play, and house-keeping areas have all been getting good use. The library has been visited by many children and table toys and art room, where there is a gigantic easel for painting and a water table are very popular.

This week the theme is "Dental Health." Many of the educational activities the staff offers during this time will center around this. Children will be visiting Dr. Mason at his office for first group field trip.

Bright eyed star of the week is Lisa Verkuille.

A special thank you to State Trooper Richard Donald for his information visit on who police are—what they do—and what they wear. Everyone enjoyed the presentation.

Next parents meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 7 at 7 o'clock at the center. Election will be held for representative on the Policy Council and officers of the Parent Group.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Hi, Dad—glad you're feeling better—maybe you and mother could visit us before the snow flies—Rebecca is growing up so fast, a real young lady enjoying her two nursery schools, one being Sunday School where Bob and Jane take her. She brings home Bible stories in picture form and the Noah's ark story taught me something. I always thought the animals went up into the ark a pair of every kind—but to my and Dad's surprise, some came in seven-sevens meaning seven pairs, male and female—clean animals which I don't understand, and then birds of the air in seven pairs, male and female. We checked this in Genesis Chapters 6 and 7. My, but its' really a mystery to me—the Ark, and why the world was flooded. Looks like Noah's Ark was the size of Grandpa's ocean liner that he sailed in years ago. Well, anyway we're glad Rebecca is learning nice things.

Last week Jane and Bob invited us to a Sunday School picnic at a place called "Songo Home"—friends of theirs and we were reluctant to go till Bob mentioned horseshoes—Daddy's ears perked up—he was a champion in Nebraska—so we decided to go—it was fun—eating, playing, singing songs that were new to us—they call them gospel songs, real nice tunes. Our Daddy played good horseshoes, but not to win—he let the Pastor win who was tickled pink Sunday day when they learn about Daddy's medals, oh what fun—it's our secret. Thinking of medals—is a sure thing we won't get any for knowing Rebecca's Bible stories—hope she doesn't ask questions.

Daddy is working the night shift and is a real pest in the kitchen, tho I like him near me—he's outside splitting wood—just looked up and smiled—oh, I love him so much. When he's home Jane does not often stop in—so I miss our little chats—especially about the Bible—seems reading and talking about it are two different things—if you know what I mean.

Jane being pregnant rests a good bit—so her Bob and our Daddy went fishing at Aziscoos Lake where they lost a salmon "big as a submarine" Bob says. Dad said Bob prays for safety and fun—yet he puts on a life preserver—saying, not much use praying if that's where the expression comes from: "God helps those that help themselves" that's quite a turn around from what I used to think.

Nursery school is out and here comes our Rebecca—we have a car pool—happy as can be—she will ask for a lunch, sit with her Teddy Bear to share her cookie and milk—tell Teddy to bow his head, fold his hands and in her sweet tender voice ask the Blessing, saying "Thank you God for this food, Amen." Jane stopped in for a second, watched her and very quietly (she thought I didn't hear her) say, "thank you Jesus." Love, Doris, Daddy, Rebecca and Bozo, and the Beagle Fred Werner Bethel Gospel Center Christian Missionary Alliance

Children and staff have been very busy at the school as they get settled in to the program year. For the past two weeks they have been introducing the new children and reacquainting the Day Care children to all the learning interest areas. The block, puppet play, and house-keeping areas have all been getting good use. The library has been visited by many children and table toys and art room, where there is a gigantic easel for painting and a water table are very popular.

This week the theme is "Denial Health." Many of the educational activities the staff offers during this time will center around this. Children will be visiting Dr. Mason at his office for first group field trip.

Bright eyed star of the week is Lisa Verkuille.

A special thank you to State Trooper Richard Donald for his information visit on who police are—what they do—and what they wear. Everyone enjoyed the presentation.

Next parents meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 7 o'clock at the center. Election will be held for representative on the Policy Council and officers of the Parent Group.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Hi, Dad—glad you're feeling better—maybe you and mother could visit us before the snow flies—Rebecca is growing up so fast, a real young lady enjoying her two nursery schools, one being Sunday School where Bob and Jane take her. She brings home Bible stories in picture form and the Noah's ark story taught me something. I always thought the animals went up into the ark a pair of every kind—but to my and Dad's surprise, some came in seven-sevens meaning seven pairs, male and female—clean animals which I don't understand, and then birds of the air in seven pairs, male and female. We checked this in Genesis Chapters 6 and 7. My, but it's really a mystery to me—the Ark, and why the world was flooded. Looks like Noah's Ark was the size of Grandpa's ocean liner that he sailed in years ago. Well, anyway we're glad Rebecca is learning nice things.

Last week Jane and Bob invited us to a Sunday School picnic at a place called "Song Home"—friends of theirs and we were reluctant to go till Bob mentioned horseshoes—Daddy's ears perked up—he was a champion in Nebraska—so we decided to go—it was fun—eating, playing, singing songs that were new to us—they call them gospel songs, real nice tunes. Our Daddy played good horseshoes, but not to win—he let the Pastor win who was tickled pink. Some day when they learn about Daddy's medals, oh what fun—it's our secret. Thinking of medals—a sure thing we won't get any for knowing Rebecca's Bible stories—hope she doesn't ask questions.

Daddy is working the night shift and is a real pest in the kitchen, tho I like him near me—he's outside splitting wood—just looked up and smiled—oh, I love him so much. When he's home Jane does not often stop in—so I miss our little chats—especially about the Bible—seems reading and talking about it are two different things—if you know what I mean.

Jane being pregnant rests a good bit—so her Bob and our Daddy went fishing at Adiscon Lake where they lost a salmon "big as a submarine" Bob says. Dad said Bob prays for safety and fun—yet he puts on a life preserver—saying, not much use praying if you yourself don't take safety measures—hm, wonder if that's where the expression comes from: "God helps those that help themselves" that's quite a turn around from what I used to think.

Nursery school is out and here comes our Rebecca—we have a car pool—happy as can be—she will ask for a lunch, sit with her Teddy Bear to share her cookie and milk—tell Teddy to bow his head, fold his hands and in her sweet tender voice ask the Blessing, saying "Thank you God for this food, Amen." Jane stopped in for a second, watched her and very quietly (she thought I didn't hear her) say, "thank you Jesus."

The Week in Washington

Acid Rain

One of the environmental issues to which I have been devoting my attention is that of acid rain. This form of air pollution has only recently come to the attention of the scientific community.

The primary source of acid rain is the burning of coal, which results in emissions of sulphur oxides and nitrogen oxides into the atmosphere. Through a series of complex chemical reactions these pollutants can be converted into acids, which may return to earth as part of either rain or snow. This acid rain may have severe environmental impacts, particularly in New England and eastern Canada. The principal sources of the emissions that produce this acid rain are coal-burning power plants in the Midwest. Their pollution is transported hundreds of miles before being deposited in the Northeast.

I have serious concerns about the acid rain problem for two reasons. First, some drastic environmental damage from acid rain has already been documented: more than 170 lakes and ponds in New York State no longer support life; the acidity of Maine lakes has increased eight-fold in the past 40 years; and forest growth may have been reduced in Sweden as a result of the acid rain.

Second, despite alarming initial indications that acid rain may be a potential environmental disaster for our natural resources, we are embarking on an energy program based in large part on the increased use of coal.

I support greater use of domestic coal instead of imported oil. But we must make this transition cautiously, since uncontrolled burning of coal is a primary source of acid rain.

Last week, I hosted a meeting of U. S. Senators with seven Members of the Canadian Parliament to discuss our mutual concerns about acid rain. As the recipient of two million tons of U. S. emissions, Canadians have as much stake in the reduction of acid rain as do we in Maine and New England. While our meeting did not result in any resolution of this complex issue, all participants resolved to raise the level of awareness of the threat that acid rain presents as a first step in addressing the issue.

Last week, I also co-chaired a Senate hearing on the economic impacts of acid rain. Expert witnesses testified that the loss of fishlife in our lakes and rivers, reduced timber growth, and decreased agricultural yield could be among the acid rain effects which would have far-reaching economic impacts.

Dr. Stephen Norton of the University of Maine at Orono told us that our state is one of the most sensitive to acid rain. Acid rain has been selected as a high-priority research topic at the University of Maine. Dr. Norton is part of the team assessing the potential impact of acidic precipitation on Maine's forest productivity and agriculture.

The researchers are investigating changes in acidity levels in Maine lakes, and are reconstructing a history of acidification.

In Maine our natural resources are also our livelihood. We cannot afford to absorb the pollution of other regions of the country.

I intend to devote continued attention to this issue and to explore all available solutions.

WOODSTOCK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The Steering Committee for the Woodstock Elementary School held its first regular meeting on Monday, Sept. 15. Parents as well as community members and teachers were expressing concern about the closing of the Gym because of heating costs currently borne by the school district. It has been suggested that wood heat be tried, and a group of interested parents is working in that direction coordinated by Mrs. Fay Corrin.

Open House will be held at the school on Tuesday evening, Oct. 28 7 o'clock. All parents are urged to attend, meet teachers, ask questions, and make suggestions. The steering committee hopes to improve communication between parents and teachers, and encourage

SEN. SUTTON TO CONDUCT DISTRICT WIDE SURVEY

Sen. Roland L. Sutton (R), South Paris has announced a district wide survey to be done mostly in conjunction with the Commitment 80 drive to be held on Saturday, Oct. 4.

Hundreds of volunteers will be calling on homes and will use the opportunity to have the survey card filled out. If no one is home, the card will be left and is designed to be returned by mail to Sutton. Survey cards will also be available at neighborhood stores and at the Republican Booth at the Fryeburg Fair.

The survey covers some of the major issues that will face the next legislature. They include the subjects of tree growth tax, State lottery, funding of Dept. of Transportation, towns withdrawing from SAD's and State liquor stores. Sen. Sutton drew national recognition and attention with his survey during the 1978 campaign. That survey, and additional ones while the legislature was in session, enabled me to better know my people's views and helped guide my decisions and my voting, Sutton explained. The first survey covered such important issues as Dickey-Lincoln, Indian land claims, nuclear energy, jobs, taxes, day care centers and health programs, all of which I had to deal with during the session, said Sutton.

"Being able to represent all the people of District 5 on a non-partisan, informed basis is my goal in taking this survey."

NORWAY

SENATOR WILLIAM COHEN From Washington

Recently there have been reports in the Maine newspapers about missile frigates languishing in berth at the Bath Iron Works. BIW, one of the major contractors with the Navy, has repeatedly constructed these highly sophisticated ships below cost and ahead of schedule.

BIW's efficiency has caused an unforeseen problem for the Navy. As welcome and necessary as these frigates are, the Navy just doesn't have the number of men and women required to put a crew on board. The Navy contends that its training schedule is not designed to keep up with BIW's speedy production schedule. The Navy may have identified a part of the problem, but the disturbing fact is that the Navy is short on manpower.

Whatever the training schedule, the Navy simply does not have the skilled personnel to put on these ships at BIW, as well as many other ships. This is a serious situation that has a detrimental effect on America's defense preparedness.

Technology does not defend the United States. Last week I inspected Ft. Campbell, Ky., home of the 101st Airborne Division, at the request of the Senate Armed Services Committee. I spoke at length with corporals and sergeants who are responsible for the maintenance of helicopters and equipment, one of the most crucial jobs of an airborne unit. The men work long hours because there is a shortage of skilled personnel. Some of the junior sergeants not only do the job assigned to them by their rank but also the job of higher ranking sergeants, because there are so few.

A corporal, who maintains a $25 million plane, works 16 hours a day and 100 hours a week, makes less than a cashier at McDonald's, lives below the poverty level, and is eligible for food stamps. It is, therefore, no surprise that the 101st Airborne, like other elite units in the armed services, is short of skilled personnel. The 101st is 16% deficient in personnel. The division requires 17,700 men and women to be at full strength, but only 14,995 are currently on duty.

This critical manpower problem pervades our Armed Forces. —The Navy is short more than 18,700 experienced, supervisory petty officers.

—Retention of Navy pilots has dropped from 62% in 1977 to just 31% today.

—Major combat units in the United States and the Panama Canal Zone are more than 17,200 men short, more than a full division.

—The Air Force lacks 2,100 pilots and 400 navigators.

Congress must address this critical situation. Policies that provide incentives for enlistment must be provided so that skilled people will choose the military as a career. Pay and benefits must be raised to retain trained men and women. It is a disservice to our men and women in the armed forces to withhold adequate pay and benefits. Their sacrifices should be rewarded.

I have sponsored and supported numerous pieces of legislation in the Senate that would alleviate this problem, but much has yet to be done. While military pay has been raised, enlisted personnel still do not earn the minimum wage. The ability of America to respond quickly and effectively to military necessities is at stake.

"BAT-MOBILE" IS LATEST ENFORCEMENT TOOL OF MAINE STATE POLICE

The latest law enforcement tool being used by the state police to get the drinking driver off the road is a mobile Breath Alcohol Testing car called the "Bat-mobile."

"A major concern of the state police is Operating Under the Influence or O.U.I. With our Bat-mobile, local, county and state police can minimize transportation time and distance in testing OUI offenders in the rural areas of this state," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

The Breath Alcohol Testing vehicle, or BAT-mobile, is equipped with an Intoxilyzer that can provide blood level results certifiable by the Maine Department of Human Services as evidence against an OUI offender.

The Bat-mobile and its trained operators belong to the state police Traffic and Safety Division's Office of Traffic Programs that developed the mobile breath testing concept. The vehicle itself was awarded to the state police by the courts resulting from its confiscation by state police officers during a drug raid last year. It was recently painted its two-tone blue colors with white lettering.

Col. Weeks said the Office of

2nd DISTRICT CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS CAMPAIGNS IN BETHEL AREA

Democratic Congressional candidate Harold L. Silverman of Calais campaigned in the Bethel area on Monday, Sept. 29. Mr. Silverman is the State Senator from Washington County. He is running against Congressman Olympia Snowe, and is supported by the working men and women's labor organizations of the state. He recognizes the need for improved job opportunities in rural Maine. The state senator was impressed by the natural beauty of the area, of fall colors in a land of mountains and lakes. He was accompanied by Jeff Kilgore, Democratic candidate for State Senator.

STATE POLICE REMINDS MOTORISTS OF SCHOOL BUS LAW

With the new school year under way, the state police remind motorists of the laws regarding school buses.

"In addition to following the school bus law, motorists are advised to be particularly careful during morning 'go-to-work' traffic as children walk to school and buses stop to pick up children," said Colonel Allan H. Weeks, chief of the Maine State Police.

Col. Weeks also advises parents to have their children not to play or run around at bus pick-up areas while waiting for or when getting off a bus.

According to the state police, on undivided highways and roads, all vehicles must stop until children are clear of the roadway and the bus is moving. Specifically, an operator when coming upon a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge children, shall stop such vehicle before reaching the school bus and shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or until signaled by the school bus driver to proceed.

On divided highways, Maine law says all vehicles in lanes traveling with the school bus must stop, but is separated by curbing or other similar physical barrier or an unpaved area need not stop.

Traffic Programs would coordinate BAT-mobile use into areas not presently covered by the self-contained breath testing program (i.e., 22 locations in population centers where a high volume of OUI offenders are known to exist).

The Bat-mobile will be located in areas where they are no self-contained breath testing program providing rural law enforcement within an approximate 25-mile radius to bring OUI offenders to be tested.

The mobile breath testing program is the latest of state police concepts, since the inception of the Alcohol Action Program (A.S.A.P.) in the mid 1970's, to get the drinking driver off the road.

AUGUST UNEMPLOYMENT RATE IN MAINE WAS 7.4%

Manpower Affairs Commissioner David W. Bustin announced last week that Maine's unemployment rate fell in August to 7.4%, well below July's seasonal high of 9.5%.

"In August 14,300 more people were working than in July," Bustin said. "Improvement was expected with a seasonal increase in manufacturing activities and with the agricultural harvest. The hiring catch has also helped."

The 7.4% unemployment rate is lower than the national rate by one-tenth of a percent. It is also the second lowest rate to be recorded this year. In August 1979, the unemployment rate was 6.5%.

Bustin said that September's unemployment rate may be equal to or slightly lower than August's rate, if historical seasonal trends hold true.

The August unemployment rate represents an estimated 35,500 people unemployed, a drop of some 10,600 from July. While the number of unemployed was some 5,500 above the August 1979 level, it was still below the levels of the 1974-1976 recession.

Bustin said that much of the over-the-year rise in unemployment represents experienced workers laid off from industries most affected by the national economic slowdown.

Manufacturing employment increased by nearly 16,000 jobs from July's seasonal downturn and reached its highest level for the year. However, overall employment gains were reduced slightly by declines in the non-manufacturing section.

Commissioner Bustin said that most of the increase in manufacturing in August was due to recovery from seasonal plant shutdowns in leather and leather products industries and in the textile industry. Leather and leather products industries also showed higher employment than in June of this year. According to Bustin, an improved supply of hides contributed to the industry's growth.

Employment in textile mills is at its lowest level for the month of August since 1975 and is down 800 jobs from August 1979.

Food processing provided 1,900 more jobs, recording the largest seasonal rise in recent years. A good harvest of blueberries, potato processing activities and a good herring catch support job growth in food processing.

Bustin said that inflation and the slow national economy was taking its toll in a number of industries, including one of Maine's growth industries, transportation equipment, which lost 300 jobs over the month. Similarly, the lumber and wood products industry employment is still well below last year's levels and non-manufacturing employment declined over the month across a broad range of industries. Wholesale and retail trade employment remained 2,000 jobs down from last year, with auto dealers and general merchandise stores particularly affected by weak demand.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends in Bethel,

We are gradually adjusting to our life in Pocasset. There have been times when we have asked ourselves, "What have we done?" But the many blessings we shared while we were with you have provided strength and courage when we needed it most.

We thank you all for every good and precious gift of friendship, especially in the time of Tom's father's death and our departure from Bethel.

Take care of each other, just as God cares for each of you personally. And may God be with you and bless you in every way, and keep you safe in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Peace,
Tom, Sandra,
Christine and Eva Caton

A THANK YOU TO ETHELYNE WIGHT
I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your wonderful service as a florist. I am very sorry to see you close your shop in Bethel. It was always a pleasure to do business with you.

Ethelyne, you don't owe anyone an apology for putting bills into a collection agency. It should be the people who owe you that should be apologizing to you. They are the ones who should feel guilty for forcing you to close. It is a shame to see a business close because people won't pay the bills.

My wish is that they will read my letter and feel so guilty that they will pay.

Thanks again for the nice service.

Olive Davis, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrington took Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farrington and Olive Davis to Winthrop to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cushman's where they joined in celebrating Edith Bryant's birthday on Friday the 26th, only we went on the 25th, Thursday. Mrs. Bryant was really surprised being the day before her natal day. We had a bountiful chicken dinner with all the fixings and vegetables of corn, string beans, cucumbers which they are still picking out of their garden. We went to Edith's apartment in the afternoon then returned to Mr. and Mrs. Cushman's for more ice cream and birthday cake. Edith opened her gifts at this time. We all had a very jolly day and returned home at nearly 6 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young and Olive Davis took a ride Sunday to Pinkham Notch to The Heritage which they toured. It was very interesting with large live fish shown in the rocky brook which flows between the rocks. They had a simulated boat and train ride and we saw many places and things related to the 1700 era. We returned home through Evans Notch.

Friday Verna Swan took three senior citizens to South Paris and we all went on the bus to Livermore tri-county meeting for the group. The new officers were elected for the coming year. President, Slim Szawilowski; Vice President, Mary Normington; Secretary, Mae Parker; Treasurer, Edie Dostie. Seven articles were taken up and voted upon. After the meeting a lunch was served while music was furnished by "The Old Notes Band."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Demarest left for Camden Wednesday where they will board their boat and will be sailing for Florida before long. David returned to his school in Eugene, Ore., and Peter is helping his father at home.

Mrs. Goldie Mason had a house wares party at her home Monday night with several friends and neighbors present.

Wednesday night we had our first frost on the fields and garden. I guess it is time to clean up the gardens for this year.

Eva Twitcheil is gaining slowly in the Norway hospital. We hope she will be able to return home soon.

Saturday Mrs. Lettie Brooks took a group of retired teachers to Fryeburg for their monthly meeting Sept. 20, where they heard our sheriff, Mr. Howe, speak on safety for your homes and self. Those who attended were Lyndell

PUBLIC NOTICE
WASTE DISCHARGE LICENSE
Pursuant to Title 38, Maine Revised Statutes, Annotated, Section 247, the Board of Environmental Protection hereby invites public comments on the modification of the Waste Discharge License issued to The Town of Bethel to allow chlorination of the waste-water to be discontinued during the period between September 15, and April 15.

This requested modification is a result of a policy adopted by the Board of Environmental Protection to consider seasonal discontinuation of chlorination by a selected group of municipal discharges. The first year of the policy will be a trial period and the Department reserves the right to require the resumption of chlorination should circumstances warrant it.

Further information relative to the proposal may be obtained in the office of the Department of Environmental Protection, Augusta, Maine from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday or by calling Mr. Galen Groff of the Department at 289-3355.

Any person may submit a request in writing for a public hearing to consider the proposal. The request must indicate the interest of the party filing such request, and the reasons why such a hearing is warranted. A public hearing may be held if the Board determines that there is significant public interest in holding such a hearing.

All comments pertaining to the above should be addressed to: Galen Groff, Bureau of Water Quality Control, Department of Environmental Protection, State House, Station 17, Augusta, Maine 04333; and should be received in the office of the Department prior to 5:00 p. m. (prevailing time) on October 16, 1980.

Pauline Smith, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hatchway and sons from Rochester, Mass., and friends called on the Smith's Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Crosby called on the Smith's this week. A nice church service Sunday. Rev. Bickett preached. Dennis Barker had the reading. Several new ones out. Flowers were in memory of Bert Kendall who died 15 years ago. His wife and three daughters were at the service.

A vote was taken after church to decorate the church up stairs. Remember the rummage sale, Oct. 17, 9 o'clock.

Edith Holt visited Marion Kendall.

Hazel Allen has been sick. Iva Fox, Ada Malia, called on her one evening.

The Raleigh woman was around making calls.

Farr, Louie Coffin, Avis Stelhorn and Olive Davis.

25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Erlon Hadley were tendered a 25th anniversary party at the Ledgeview reception rooms by their sons, Lonnie, Keith, Dale Hadley, Mrs. Dale Hadley and Mary Ellen Andrews on Sunday, Sept. 7 from 2 to 4 p. m.

The decorations for the occasion were white daisies and red roses in a setting of silver streamers. A wedding bell was hung over the tables. A beautiful wedding cake made by Brenda Estes was on display.

Keith Hadley and friend, Brenda Long, attended the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hadley were at the gift table. The cards were placed in a blue and silver Tonka truck (a replica of Erlon's truck). This was loaned for the gifts by Craig Moore. Many others aided in making this party a success.

Lonnie Hadley and Glendon Hadley, Erlon's brother, presented the program. Anne Dunham played several selections on the organ while the guests gathered. An original poem for the occasion was read by Olive Davis requested by Cleo A. Ryerson.

A duet was sung by Helen and Karen Hadley accompanied by Dora Hadley. Vera Irving gave a reading concerning Maude Alice and Erlon Hadley's wedding trip 25 years ago.

Dora Hadley, Erlon's mother, rendered several selections on the piano. The Lord's Prayer was sung by Aiden Redding.

After the program a receiving line was formed with Maude Alice and Erlon and others, made up of those who stood up with them 25 years ago as was requested by Glendon Hadley. Those who complied were Walter Appleby Jr., Duane Ryerson, Dora Hadley, Evelyn Appleby, Glendo Hadley, Cleo Ryerson, Carroll Hadley, Betty Estabrook. The guests filed by shaking hands and then returned to the refreshment rooms to partake of the goodies, punch and wedding cake, which was served by Betty Estabrook, Brunswick. Mary Ellen Andrews, Bethel and Anna Ryerson, Augusta, attended the refreshment table, Martha and Laurie Hadley served the punch.

There were 100 friends and relatives in attendance. Larrie Wilday was the photographer. A social hour was enjoyed during the refreshment period.

Superintendent's Newsletter

In the next four months, the Board of Directors of S. A. D. #44 will be developing the budget for the 1981-1982 school year, and, in turn, making a series of decisions that will have a financial impact on the taxpayers of the District and an educational impact on the students of the District. The M. S. A. D. #44 Finance Committee, in an effort to make the budget process as open and understandable as possible, plans to develop the budget in four phases.

The first phase of budget development, the educational and awareness phase, begins Tuesday with a month-long course on school finance offered through adult education. The residents of S. A. D. #44 are fortunate to have an opportunity to participate in this course, which will be taught by Sawin Millett, the former Commissioner of Education. Mr. Millett is extremely knowledgeable in the area of school finance, and is able to explain complex information in terminology that will be easily understood by laymen. This course is designed to provide School Board Directors, school personnel, parents, and community members with a fundamental knowledge of the rules that govern school finance. I have encouraged the Board of Directors, administrators, and school personnel to take this course, and encourage any citizens interested in learning about school budget development and management to plan to attend this course. Mr. Millett's course on school finance will be offered on the four Tuesday evenings in October from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m., and registration in advance is encouraged. An enrollment fee will be charged.

The next phase of the budget development will be a series of public hearings to be held in each town of the School Administrative District. The dates and sites for the hearings are listed below:
Wednesday, Oct. 22, Newry — Raymond C. Foster School, 7:30 p. m.
Thursday, Oct. 23, Bethel — Bethel Savings Bank, 7:30 p. m.
Monday, Oct. 27, Andover — Andover School Gym, 7:30 p. m.
Wednesday, Oct. 29, Greenwood — Greenwood Town Hall, Locke Mills, 7:30 p. m.
Thursday, Oct. 30, Woodstock — Woodstock Town Hall, Bryant Pond, 7:30 p. m.

The third phase of the budget process will be budget presentations to the administrators and supervisors in S. A. D. #44. The presentations to the Board of Directors are scheduled as outlined below:
Monday, Nov. 17 — Administration accounts; Student Attendance account; Health Service account; Insurance account; and Debt Service account.
Monday, Dec. 1 — Transportation account; Maintenance account; Food Service account.
Monday, Dec. 15 — Instructional account; Student Activities account; Adult Education.
Monday, Jan. 5, 1981 — Equipment Replacement account; Capital Outlay account; Outgoing Transfer account; N.O.V.A. account.

The final phase of the budget process will be three presentations of the complete budget to be held in three different sites. These full presentations are scheduled as follows:
Monday, Jan. 19, 1981 — Bethel
Monday, Feb. 2, 1981 — Andover
Monday, Feb. 9, 1981 — Woodstock

Following this groundwork, the Board of Directors will formally adopt the FY '82 budget on Monday, Feb. 23, in the Telstar Auditorium. The budget adopted by the Board will be then be submitted for action by the voters of S. A. D. #44 at the annual meeting in May.

By making the budget process as open as possible, the Finance Committee hopes to develop a budget that is both educationally sound and financially acceptable.

Monday morning we finally had a freeze that killed all of the beautiful colors of the nasturtiums, phlox, spider plants and marigolds. These plants seem to have a deeper color as the weather cools.

We had picked all of our vine crops before we headed for Greenville and Moosehead Lake. Lester and Ruth Butters, Frank and I hired a camp at Sandy Bay Camps right on Moosehead as Let was one of the 700 moose hunter licensees.

We left early the 20th in two vehicles so that Ruth and I could have a vehicle while the men went hunting. Ruth just got out of the hospital Friday morning. Sunday the men took a lunch and drove around trying to spot a good crossing or tracks near the road. After coming home we went out to Rockwood. I found out the next Sunday that Danny Gibbs and Ricky Young were staying in Rockwood Camps and Wednesday afternoon Danny bagged a 15-point buck weighing over 700 lbs. Danny and Ricky came back Thursday.

Monday even though the weather was bad the men left. They came back with over a 500 lb. cow beef dinner. At the time they were in the woods they had a thunder-shower. After dinner the men started back to Bethel to put the meat in the cooler. While they were gone Let's cousin, Lawrence Butters, and son of Lovell, came in. They had bagged a buck weighing over 600 lbs. The hunters had been sent envelopes in the mail in which they had plastic ties they had to tie where they shot the moose and glass vials in which were taken blood samples, etc., to see in what health the moose were. These were supposed to see if any foreign chemicals were getting into their food supply and water supply also.

After the men left Monday Ruth and I went to Guilford for our supper. Tuesday after the men got back they had to go into the woods to see all the action. Guess they didn't find much.

Wednesday Ruth and Let had to go to Greenville so Frank and I took a ride on Great Northern Paper land to Frost Pond, Ripogonus Dam and over the Golden Road. We found a way to drive down to Harrington Lake where we had the picnic we had brought. The day was beautiful but cold.

Thursday, not a very good day but the men went to try fishing. The camp had told us they had fishpools and Let had brought his. Not a whole fishing pole in the lot. They fixed Let's but no fish. The day before a man told us he had gotten a 4½ lb. salmon and his friend a 3 lb. one (we didn't see them).

Friday we just relaxed and went to the Sportsmen's Grill for supper. After supper we played domino and started getting ready for home. The wind blew strong all night and Saturday when we left for home the wind was still blowing strong.

When we got back George had left for the Allen reunion held at Pappoose Pond Camps. My brother, John, had flown in the Tuesday before from California and Uncle Gordon and Cousin June had driven from Massachusetts. George said that Uncle Gordon was the oldest and brother Danny's Jacob George was the youngest.

Ronnie Gilbert and family of Lewiston spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Murphy, Chandra and new baby August, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy.

The 21st Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stearns had her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, and daughter and family, the Ricky Seames, for dinner.

The 27th Sue and Tim Angevine were included in the group that took a trip to the Bubble in Andover. Tim went to Aaron Conant's, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Conant, after returning and returned home Sunday.

Kristy Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, went to Susan Gould's, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gould, Friday on the bus and came back Sunday. The Gould family and Kristy went to Fryeburg Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason, Jr., Carole, Melinda, Penny York, Jody Shimamura, June Henry, Jolene Andre, Gerry, Joe, Billy, Betsy and Justin Shimamura attended Fryeburg Fair Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Bills had a Sunday visitors his sister, Becky Bills of Freeport, and David Cledwyn of England, who had flown to the states a couple of days earlier.

The Bills had the three big ash trees by the barn cut which will give the sun a chance to get at the barn and also makes good firewood for this winter.

Bruce and Betty Smith and two children had Sunday dinner at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith. Doug Smith of Cape Cod was also home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Brown of Dixfield and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvern Wilson of Lincoln came Friday the 19th for his 25th anniversary at Gould Academy and spent the night with his aunt and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham. The Laphams celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary the 20th at home and then went to the Odd Fellows supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Varney of Winthrop called on the Laphams the 27th.

October
Where are you going, my children? Down autumn's leaf-strewn lanes To find Jack Frost who tipped by And touched our windowpanes. I see storm windows that must be hung. You see frost tracings in the early sun. I see the leaves to be raked in a mound. You see tumbling mals on the ground.

Where are you going my children? Just down the road a way To see the tree where the hoot owl sits And a field where rabbits play. I see small boots to be marked and mated. Oh, let me come with you down that lane And see October as a child again. —Barbara Burrow

Barton went to Portland for parts. Monday they attended the Fryeburg fair.

It has been a nice week here at K-D's Acres. I do enjoy the nice quiet afternoon when all are in school.

Callers here last week were Gus and Polly McAllister and Paul, Libby Scribner, Barb Inman, Margaret Barton, Jeff, Jimmy and Brett; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wentworth. Alberta White stopped for a while when she picked up Rod White who had been playing with Dan.

Sunday evening the boys and I called on my mother, who is still a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital. We also stopped by and visited Christine and Megan Cole as Uncle "Eity" was working.

Starting Sunday, Oct. 5, there will be very informal, come as you are worship service in the basement of the Albany Church. This service will be held from 4 to 4:30. If possible please bring a stick of wood for the fire.

On Oct. 8 at 7 p. m. at the home of Alice Wardwell, there will be a Circle meeting of the Albany Church.

THIS WEEK AT ETHEL BISBEE SCHOOL

At last week's Ethel Bisbee School assembly the children watched a filmstrip about Johnny Appleseed to celebrate apple season. Thursday morning the second graders in Mrs. Davis's and Mrs. McCluskey's rooms went to Gerald and Mary Ann O'Connor's house in West Bethel to pick apples (donated by Herbie Lyon). The apples were used for refreshments after the assembly. Mrs. McCluskey's children showed pictures they drew of the trip. Mrs. Davis's children wrote stories and drew pictures of food made with apples. Mrs. McCluskey read the story about the "star" inside the apple.

Stephen Remington (P. M. Kindergarten) was presented with a "Good Smile" award. Paul Crommet (2nd Grade) received a "Good Sport" award. Scott Walker (1st Grade) got an "Excellent Handwriting" award.

The E.B.S. OPEN HOUSE has been changed to TUESDAY, Oct. 7 from 7-9 p. m. Please note the change.

An Assertive Discipline Workshop (three Monday-after-school sessions) has been held at E.B.S. during September. The workshop was conducted by Carlene Trotter (Tri-County Mental Health) and David Walton (M.S.A.D. #44 Home-School Coordinator). Plans have been made to implement the program at E.B.S.

Another free offer has captured the staff's attention, a children's walk-in SPACE CAPSULE from Proctor and Gamble. Needed: 60 proofs-of-purchase for each space capsule. They would like one for each classroom (6). The offer is good until Dec. 31, 1980. Last year the school got a playhouse for each classroom from the same company.

The following proofs-of-purchase qualify: Fluid ounce/net weight statements from: Puritan Oil, Era, Downy, Joy, Ivory Liquid, Head and Shoulders (bottle), Liquid Prell, Words: Bounty ("to open—pull up"), Wondra ("how to open—pull here"), Luvs ("contents..."). Net weight statement: Cascade, Bold, Tide, Head and Shoulders (tube or jar), Sure (Roll-On and Solid), Other: Bounce (2 end flaps), Pampers (Teddy Bear—1 point = proof of purchase), Charmin (picture of baby), Crest (entire carton back panel), Prell Concentrate (entire carton back panel).

If you have any of these please send them to the Ethel Bisbee School. They will appreciate it.

Highlighted this week as "Class of the Week," is the sign language course, which is given on Monday evenings and Tuesday afternoons. The course is built around a video-taped series prepared for public television by Mary Youngs of the Baxter School for the Deaf. The tapes are shown on the VTR player at Telstar to the classes, which are made up of community members and S.A.D. 44 staff including a number of Special Education teachers. Following the taped class, the groups practice and review the written materials provided by Mrs. Youngs. So far the lessons have covered finger-spelling and signs for basic greetings and numbers. Mrs. Youngs and her husband who is Superintendent of the Baxter School, will come to Telstar on Oct. 20 for a "live" class with both groups. It is expected that the video-taped course will be given on a regular basis through S.A.D. 44's Adult & Community Education program. It would be possible to join this course for the fall term, as arrangements could be made to view the first and second lessons as make-up.

Highlighted this week as "Class of the Week," is the sign language course, which is given on Monday evenings and Tuesday afternoons. The course is built around a video-taped series prepared for public television by Mary Youngs of the Baxter School for the Deaf. The tapes are shown on the VTR player at Telstar to the classes, which are made up of community members and S.A.D. 44 staff including a number of Special Education teachers. Following the taped class, the groups practice and review the written materials provided by Mrs. Youngs. So far the lessons have covered finger-

spelling and signs for basic greetings and numbers. Mrs. Youngs and her husband who is Superintendent of the Baxter School, will come to Telstar on Oct. 20 for a "live" class with both groups. It is expected that the video-taped course will be given on a regular basis through S.A.D. 44's Adult & Community Education program. It would be possible to join this course for the fall term, as arrangements could be made to view the first and second lessons as make-up.

LAVALLEE JOINS FACULTY AT GOULD ACADEMY

Timothy A. LaVallee has joined the faculty at Gould Academy as a history teacher and director of the school's outstanding ski program.

LaVallee grew up in Winthrop, graduated from Plymouth (N. H.) State College with a B. Ed. degree, and has done graduate work at Bridgewater State College, Springfield College, and the University of Maine at Farmington and Orono.

Most recently he taught and coached at Oxford Hills High School in South Paris, and previous to that he worked in a similar position at Telstar Regional High School.

As a ski coach, LaVallee is known throughout New England. His teams have won the Mountain Valley Conference, Western Regional Championships, State Championships in 1970, 1971, 1973, 1977 and 1979, and the New England Championships in 1978. This year he serves as chairman of the Maine selection committee for the Northeast Racing Association.

At Gould, LaVallee will be responsible for the overall direction of the Academy's ski program, concentrating on the Alpine racing program that will be held at Sunday River Ski Area.

Over the past years Gould has constantly produced strong ski teams and/or individuals who have advanced to the Junior National level, and Gould skiers make up part of many college teams throughout New England and the West. The Academy's location, five miles from Sunday River, plus the daily class schedule that allows for training every afternoon, provides the racer with the best of two worlds—a strong academic college preparatory program, coupled with the opportunity to race at his or her highest potential.

LaVallee is married to Beth Sargent LaVallee, a 1967 graduate of Gould Academy, and ski racer and coach in her own right. They

HEALTHWISE COURSE BEGINS

Eighteen participants have enrolled in the Healthwise course which began on Wednesday evening, Sept. 24. About half of those enrolled will be receiving recertification credits for the course. Wednesday's topic was "Home Physical Exams." The class viewed a videotape entitled "Getting to Know You" which demonstrated how to perform and record a physical examination at home. They also reviewed how to take and record vital signs and the importance of keeping complete and up-to-date medical records. Techniques for self-breast exam were also reviewed. The goals of the healthwise course are to help individuals to assume the responsibility for maintaining and improving their health. The skills and efforts of an activated patient and a health professional can create a better health care team than either one working alone.

HEALTH EDUCATION NEWS: SCIENCE CLASSES WORK WITH BIOFEEDBACK EQUIPMENT

Science classes at Telstar High School and Middle School have been working with biofeedback equipment for smoking education as part of their overall health education program. The equipment has been on loan from the Maine Lung Association this week.

The Biofeedback Project was designed to stimulate a positive change in the smoking habits of junior and senior high school students. This is accomplished by showing that the smoking of just one cigarette has immediate physiological effects on the body. The four pieces of equipment used measure the carbon monoxide level of air in the lungs, hand tremor; skin temperature and pulse rate.

Through arrangements made by the health education coordinator, Marshall Burk of the Lung Association demonstrated the four pieces of equipment to administrators, and science teachers. The teachers then guided the biofeedback program in their respective classrooms.
